Wanted-- Wistaria Queens

Who would like to be a queen?

Virginia Summers, manager of Sierra Madre's annual Wistaria Vine Festival, yesterday issued a call for applicants to compete for the 1958 festival crown.

All girls who are in the 10th grade or higher, unmarried, and have Elgin prefix numbers are eligible. They should contact Mrs. Summers at ELgin 5-6422 or ELgin 5-1545.

This should be done soon, according to Mrs. Summers, because:

THE 1958 Wistaria Vine Festival, one of Southern California's oldest and most colorful fetes, will open its 65th year in about three weeks—exact date not yet determined.

In little more than two weeks five princesses will be chosen from all aspirants, their names to be published on the opening day of the festival.

One week after that the world will be told who is queen, and the crown of lavender blossoms signifying that sovereignty will be put on her head by Mayor Charles James.

Judges for the contest will be Postmaster Charles E. Look, Chamber of Commerce President Robert Green, City Administrator Larry Bevington and merchants Robert Lane and Don Jackson.

THE YOUNG queen will be honored at the vine, 201 W. Carter, during all events scheduled for the six-week festival, including Easter Sunrise service, Artists' Day, and others.

Then, too, there is the "Dowager Queen," the great traditional vine itself, who will have her own special honor. Said Virginia Summers yesterday:

"This fine lady with the lavender hair is 65 this year, and eligible for social security. To celebrate this she has invited all people 65 or over to be her guests."

Thus, all visitors who qualify at age 65 and up (and are willing to admit it), will be admitted free to the grounds during the entire festival.

Little League Tryouts to Be Held Saturday

Saturday, Feb. 15, is the date set for Little League tryouts for all boys up to the age of 12.

Tryouts will be at the Sierra Madre School grounds at 9:30 a.m. Boys are asked to bring their own baseball gloves.

Little League is restricted to boys whose 13th birthday occurs after July 31, 1958. Older boys are eligible to play in the "Babe Ruth" league, organized this year in Sierra Madre.

Local PTA Observes Founders Day Feb. 14

National PTA Founder's Day will be celebrated by the Sierra Madre PTA Monday, Feb. 17, with an outstanding program and the awarding of annual Honorary Life Memberships.

The evening will open with a dessert and short business meeting, to be held in the Sierra Madre School cafeteria. By-law revisions will be discussed. In charge of the program to follow will be Mmes. Mary Poole and Yoda Adams, co-chairmen, assisted by the Founder's Day Committee.

Coming back to school after having "made good" are former Sierra Madre students Bob Mitchell and his famous Boys' Choir, now familiar through TV, radio, film and personal performances; Donna Norris, now Mrs. William Stevenson who, with her twin sister, Diana, entertained troops in Korea; and George Tyree.

A Sierra Madre resident, Tyree is now a popular singer who possesses, in the words of a Sierra Madre teacher, "perhaps the finest voice ever heard in this school."

Wild Animals In Them Thar Hills

A Los Angeles man, who said he was cornered by a wild animal, was led to safety Monday night by members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew.

The Rescue Crew was called by the police after reports of a man calling for help in the canyon. In about two hours, the rescue group found Gerald Urbach, 33, of 755 S. Genesee, off Mt. Wilson Trail in the Little Santa Anita Canyon.

Earl La Lone said Urbach appeared badly frightened and claimed he had been cornered by a wild animal. Assisting in the rescue, which occurred at about 10 p.m., were Earl and Edward La Lone, Bill Wark and Ray Lorenzini.

Wm. Clauson On Concert Series Feb. 18

Dubbed by Carl Sandburg "The Viking of Song," William Clauson, balladeer and guitarist, is the next artist on the Foothill Community Concert series Tuesday night, Feb. 18, at Clifton School auditorium in Monrovia.

In young Clauson the Concert Association will bring an interesting personality and platform artist who has just completed a Far Eastern tour. In addition, he recently presented his fourth annual concert at Town Hall in New York, again winning the plaudits of the critics.

His notices declare him unique in his field, without peer as a ballad singer, and one of the most colorful and versatile singers and accomplished guitarists on the concert stage today.

A polyglot both musically and linguistically, Mr. Clauson speaks six languages and sings in 13. It is his interest in all peoples of all countries—and his matchless artistry—that enables him to sing a native folk song that captivates his audiences.

In the course of an evening's program Mr. Clauson can be expected to run the gamut of styles from lilting Irish ditties to spirituals, Appalachian songs, Mexican numbers.

He has collected songs from all over the world, constantly adding new ones.

Seven File Petitions For Council Election

Searchers Rescue 3 In Canyon

A Monterey Park father and his two young children were rescued in Little Santa Anita Canyon Sunday night, after being missing for seven hours.

The hiking trio, forced to turn back on a trek to Mt. Wilson because of heavy landslides on the trail, were located by members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew at 10:45 p.m.

The hunting party used lamps and flashlights to light the way up the rugged slopes.

Earl La Lone of the Sierra Madre unit said Carl Niemack, 38, and two of his children started up Little Santa Anita Canyon at 11 a.m., en route to Mt. Wilson.

The trio was expected to meet Mrs. Niemack at Mt. Wilson later in the afternoon.

When they failed to show up, Mrs. Niemack alerted Sierra Madre police, and rescue units were sent up into the mountain crevasses at 8:25 p.m.

The southbound crew found three notes left by the Niemacks, describing their plight. The notes were helpful in aiding the searchers.

Hiking with their father were Bobby, 8, and Margaret, 14. The Niemack family lives at 1803 Cliffhill Dr., Monterey Park.

La Lone said eight members of the Sierra Madre Rescue Unit and four Temple City sheriff's deputies were dispatched on the hunt. One group started at the bottom of the canyon trail and the second party at Mt. Wilson.

Paper Drive Set For February 22

Sierra Madre PTA's second paper drive, conducted in cooperation with the Faculty Club, will be held on Saturday, Feb. 22, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., at both Sierra Madre and Sierra Mesa schools, according to James Abernethy, paper drive chairman.

The PTA requests Sierra Madre citizens to save their newspapers, rags and grease for the public school children to collect for the drive. Proceeds will be divided between the PTA and the Faculty Club. Magazines cannot be accepted.

Students who bring 36" or more of paper will be treated to a special movie after the drive.

Dr. Durfee Is Nursery School Speaker Tuesday

the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School and the Pasadena City College Extended Day.

Dr. Durfee will discuss "The Meaning of Security" at the Nursery School, 701 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 18. The meeting is open to the public.

It was also reported that the Hollywood and Santa Anita Turf Clubs donated approximately $290 to the Community Chest here.

Green Asks Full Dinner Turnout

Robert H. Green, president of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday urged a full turnout of Chamber members at the organization's annual dinner meeting Monday evening in the Woman's Clubhouse.

Robert M. Shillito, general manager of the Downtown Business Men's Association of Los Angeles, will be the guest speaker.

Three Posts Will Be Filled April 8

The councilmanic election April 8 has attracted a large number of candidates, including the one incumbent seeking to retain his post.

As of late Wednesday, seven candidates have filed for three vacancies on the City Council. Voters will decide on whether the posts of city clerk and city treasurer should be elective or appointive, an issue that should produce a good turnout at the polls.

THOSE WHO have filed so far, in the order in which their petitions were turned in to the city clerk, are:

Delbert M. Watts, 445 E. Highland; Albert Myers, 101 Esperanza; George T. Fleming, 110 S. Holdman; Milton R. Emerson, 270 N. Mountain Trail; Clifford Stowell Jr., 300 N. Mountain Trail; James F. Abernethy, 205 Wilson, and the incumbent, William Lisle, 305 E. Orange Grove.

The positions to be filled for four-year terms include those seats now held by Harold Roberts and Herbert Harrison, neither of whom is seeking reelection, and by Lisle.

THE INCUMBENT was appointed to the Council Sept. 24 following the resignation of Lorne Pratt. Lisle formerly served for eight years on the Planning Commission.

A Californian since 1920, Lisle is president and general manager of Aro Equipment Corp. He and his wife have four children.

WATTS, the son of a Lutheran minister, is a research engineer in charge of the laboratory at Johnston Pump. He formerly was a research engineer at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Watts has lived in California since 1936, with the exception of a six-year absence during the World War II years when he worked for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics in Cleveland.

He and his wife, who have lived in Sierra Madre about three years, have four children.

MYERS, a registered electrical engineer, was a city councilman and mayor of Sierra Madre from 1928 to Persuaded to run for councilman by his friends and neighbors, Fleming and his wife have two children, a girl, 8, and a boy, 6.

EMERSON, a native of Pasadena, has lived in Sierra Madre about seven years. He is a civil engineer with Johnson and Nielson and formerly worked for the State Bridge Department.

Active in civic affairs in Sierra Madre, Emerson is superintendent of the Congregational Church Sunday School. He and his wife have two children, 6 and 4 years of age.

STOWELL, who has been active in the Community Chest, PTA and other civic groups, first lived in Sierra Madre in 1950. He returned about 18 months ago.

Stowell is superintendent of the china department for Gladding-McBean in Los Angeles. The Stowells have two children, 6½ and 2 years of age.

ABERNETHY, 205 Wilson, has served on the PTA Board of Directors for two years, and has also worked with the Girl Scouts, Coordinating Council and Community Chest. He is a member of the Lions Club and of the Congregational Church.

The Abernethys have three boys, 7, 5 and 2 years of age. He is retail representative for the Union Oil Co. in Pasadena.

Prize Painting In Caltech Art Exhibit

Edgar Ewing's painting, "The Little Black Sewing Machine," which won the 1957 Sierra Madre Purchase Prize, is now on exhibit, along with other prize-winning Southern California paintings, at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena.

The painting, which was purchased for the town of Sierra Madre by the Exhibits Committee of the Friends of the Library, normally hangs in the library reading room.

Next month's exhibit in the library gallery will be a one-man showing of drawings and paintings by Flavio Cabral, teacher of art at the Los Angeles Valley Junior College, Van Nuys. The exhibit opens Sunday, March 2, with a reception in the community room of the library from 2 to 5 p.m.

Mr. Cabral has had one-man showings at the Los Angeles and Pasadena Art Museums, at the Santa Barbara Museum, the Palacio de Bellas Artes in Mexico City, and elsewhere.

In April the library gallery will present Young Artists of 1958, a selection of work by students of Southern California colleges and art schools.

SCOTTY BROWN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Brown, 49 W. Orange Grove, adds his valentine to that big valentine box while Janet Bettencourt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bettencourt, 175 S. Lima, and Debbie Richter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Richter, 421 Crestdale Drive, watch with interest. The three are Sierra Madre second graders in Mrs. Lenora McKee's room. Youngsters are encouraged to make their own valentines as a part of their creative art work.

Big Brother Is Watching

(The following article is the text of a brief talk made by Harry Elwood, editor of The Sierra Madre News, at a recent meeting of the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School. It is printed here on the request of several persons who attended the panel discussion on "Preparing Our Children for Experiences They Will Later Face." Panel discussions and talks by experts in the field of child psychology are only two of the many worthwhile projects undertaken by our Nursery School.)

Now, I have no doubt that it is quite important to prepare our children for experiences they will later face. I'm quite sure, also, that proper preparation will help our children prevent many later problems.

But, it seems to me, we face the danger of overdoing things, particularly today with all our psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers and assorted other experts peering at us through one-way glass.

We run the danger, I think, of becoming Big Brothers to our children instead of being their parents. We risk, by over-preparing our children, by clucking over them like mother hens, the danger of destroying our children's self-reliance, their ability to think for themselves and to act without the shadow of Big Brother in the background.

And if self-reliance and the power of independent thought aren't qualities which should prepare our children for future experiences, I have a completely false view of the important requisites of our modern society.

SELF-RELIANCE can be instilled, I think, by letting kids do things for themselves in their own childish ways, not by trying consciously to prepare our children for every future problem they will meet, which is impossible, anyway.

This, I know, is difficult today. There are just too many cars, too few vacant fields that once provided ideal—and unsupervised—playgrounds, and too many well-meaning mothers and fathers with too many modern, labor-saving conveniences and too little to do.

But, I think, we should start trying to make a better effort. Perhaps we should even take a chance now and then.

LAST SUMMER, for example, my wife and I and another couple went to Mexico (Ensenada, to be exact.) Our friends took their two children with them. The oldest kid was 11; the youngest 7.

One night we wanted to go out—the adults, that is. So naturally we had to find a baby sitter. Whoever heard of leaving a 11-year-old boy alone, not to mention his sister who was only 7?

Well, apparently, the Mexicans had, for it took them a long time to grasp the fact that we wanted somebody to watch those big kids. Never before had they heard of such foolishness, particularly in Ensenada where five-year-old boys literally are out earning their daily bread.

This is not to suggest I advocate leaving young children fend for themselves in a foreign country, but simply to contrast our point of view with that of our neighbors to the south.

And I doubt if the problem of juvenile delinquency is as serious in Mexico as it is in the United States.

SOME OF THESE thoughts I've expressed have been running through my head for some time but, frankly, they didn't crystallize until recently when I read the best-seller (a bad word, I know), "Where Did You Go? Out. What Did You Do? Nothing," by Robert Paul Smith.

The book contrasts the pleasures of Mr. Smith's own childhood with the dubious advantages of being a child today. Mr. Smith is not an expert in juvenile behavior, simply a parent. This must bother the experts, because the bookstores and magazine stands are full of so-called articles about children, written by laymen with little knowledge of the subject.

And on the whole, I think the experts are right. But sometimes, even a parent may have an idea or two.

IN A RECENT article by Parent Smith on the subject of children, he says:

"Big Brother . . . is all the parents who cannot refrain from poking their snouts into a world where they have no business to be, into the wonderful world of a kid, which is wonderful precisely because there are no grownups in it. In come today's parents, tramping down the underbrush, cutting down the trees, driving away the game, making the place hideous with mimeographed sheets and names and regulations . . . They have invented a whole new modern perversion: child-watching.

"There are two main groups of child-watchers. The first, which includes the PTAs and the child study leagues and the children's mental hygiene groups, watches but does not touch. These are the peepers through one-way glass, the keepers of notebooks, the givers of tests.

"The second group watches and touches—and also coaches and uniforms and proliferates rule books. This group manages such things as the soccer leagues and the Little Leagues and the Cub Scouts and the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts and the Brownies and the Sea Scouts and the Explorer Scouts and, I'd bet, the Satellite Scouts. These are the getters down on all fours, the spies in the children's world, the ones who cannot be sure whether they wish the kids to be as grownup as themselves, or wish themselves to be as childish as the kids."

Mr. Smith, I think, has something there.

Letter to the Editor

FAITH IN FREEDOM

Dear Sir:
I, too, wish to commend you on your healthy editorial of Jan. 23. However, Mr. George Kennan and Mr. Walter Lippmann, to mention two, have gone much farther than you along this line. What is it all about in one short paragraph? It is that we provide the example of democracy in action. We abandon some things. (1) Our efforts to arm our European interests with atomic weapons and missile bases. (2) Our insistence on a united Germany as a part of NATO.

We must have enough faith in our free institutions to withdraw our armies from Europe and allow them to deal with subversion in their own way. Only then can we negotiate for withdrawal of Soviet armies from satellite nations. There will be psychological trauma and socialism but this we must accept unless we wish to "catch it."

We might be amazed at what our example might do—then we could go ahead and get into those self-enforcing commercial devices you approve of—one of which I hope will be scientific exchange of data on hydrogen fusion for peacetime purposes, enough to negate all fear.

Sincerely,
VIRGINIA G. LUND,
682 Brookside Lane.

High Cost of Loving

Around the Square

By Tommy Ann Miller

The mercury in local thermometers is bubbling overtime these days (and nights) as anxious parents keep track of temperatures. Several grammar school children are down with Scarlet Fever, and School Nurse Hortense Wells has alerted families to be on the look-out for fever symptoms as well as signs of German Measles and Chicken Pox.

THE MENTION of someone having Chicken Pox never fails to spark this bit of information from one wide-eyed 3-year-old: "We've got a turtle box!"

SEEMS HARD to believe—but it did happen here. A young serviceman (in uniform) taking a solitary walk in the Canyon the other evening, was chased and physically threatened by a convertible full of predatory punks. So intent were the five hoodlums on catching the lone G.I., that they pursued him for several blocks—till he finally escaped them by taking to the hills.

Let's hope this was a transient rat pack, and not a signal that "big city" problems are menacing our quiet village.

SPEAKING OF RATS, a sleek fat rat came slithering down one of the nicest driveways in town, looked about, his whiskers quivering as he sniffed the morning air, and then slunk along the sidewalk until he entered to seek stray morsels in an adjoining yard. These varmints—along with squirrels and bats—are notorious rabies carriers and must not be invited to tea.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

WHEN CALIFORNIA was a young state the railroads named its governors, senators and legislators and generally ran things. That was such a bad system that finally state and federal commissions were set up to protect the public's interests.

Such commissions were, of course, denounced as socialist, but today no political party or personage of importance would dare propose their abolition. Not only rail lines but bus lines and air lines and all sorts of public utilities are controlled by commissions and none can raise its rates without public hearings in which it shows good reasons for the advance.

BUT TODAY more Americans than were alive when the Interstate Commerce Commission and most state commissions were established rely more on the transportation of their own motor cars and trucks than on public transportation.

Why, then, should there be such denunciation of Reuther's proposal that a federal commission hold hearings to see if the public is being charged too much for cars and trucks? The manufacturers stoutly say they really should get more, but one cannot but wonder where all the surplus millions of the Ford Foundation and the billion-dollar profits of GM came from.

Transportation is the lifeblood of commerce and of progress, so the public interest really should be protected. And surely a federal commission could be counted on to protect the rights and interests of the manufacturers, too.

PRIVATE CARS and trucks are simply a great part of the national transportation picture, and I'm too stupid to see why they shouldn't be regulated just as other parts of the transportation picture are.

Instead of denouncing a proposal which seems, on its face, to be good for half the people of America, I think we should seriously consider it—as objectively as possible—before we make up our minds.

MR. DULLES told the Bagdad Pact that if any aggressor threatened them we would leap to their aid with massive resistance. But I wonder if we would?

First of all, Mr. Dulles has no authority to send United States forces into action. Of course, he was speaking for the President, who has, but it would be a bitter pill for him to have to do it. It would make all the criticism of Truman's policy in Korea seem hypocritical.

In Korea, the United Nations, of which we are the most influential member, warned that if the North Koreans crossed a certain parallel the UN would resist with force. The North Koreans defied the warning and we had to act. In the

Your Congressman . . .

Annual Questionnaire Is Ready for Distribution

By Edgar W. Kiestand, Rep., 21st District

We have just finished putting together the sixth annual questionnaire which I shall send throughout our congressional district to learn people's opinions on the important issues facing Congress and our country.

Compared with five previous questionnaires this was by far the toughest to compile. It was toughest because never have the issues been so complicated, so weighty or so abstract. It was tough, too, because new developments have been occurring almost daily which made some questions unnecessary or outdated, and forced us to alter others.

When we started working on the questionnaire we wanted to ask whether the United States should not adopt a "crash program" to send up a satellite. Then the Explorer was successfully launched, so we changed the question to ask whether the U.S. should enter a program for sending a rocket to the moon. This sounded too much like fiction, even though it is being given serious consideration. As the question finally emerged, it asks whether Congress should allot money to create an independent outer space agency under civilian control. Even this is somewhat outdated. The agency was established—under Pentagon control, however—just as the questionnaire was being locked up.

SINCE QUESTIONS must be short, we weren't able to use one on the rivalry among military services. There are all sorts of proposals for consolidating the services at the top to avoid useless waste, friction and duplication of operations, but to explain such proposals in a line or two is impossible. So we left out the question entirely.

We assumed there would be almost no division of opinion on whether the U.S. should step up its missile program, so we did not ask a specific question to that effect. However, missiles have to be financed and they cost big money. This led to a three-part question on how Congress should go about getting the money. We have only three choices. We can raise taxes, we can go into deficit financing and an unbalanced budget, or we can severely cut federal expenses and services.

No one wants to pay higher taxes. No one wants deficit financing because it leads only to inflation and an increase in living costs (and therefore is a form of hidden taxation). And if Congress begins cutting federal services—even though many of them need drastic cutting—tremendous pressure will be heaped on us from those people or that area which gets cut. When pressure gets great enough Congress is apt to restore the money. Nevertheless, the problem is a tough one to which there is no happy solution. The answers should prove interesting.

AMONG THE big issues is the matter of Supreme Court rulings, particularly those involving communism and the matter of whether federal laws should supersede state laws. We decided to ask whether the Court has been too lenient in its rulings.

Middle East it is different. We do not belong to the Bagdad Pact. We are merely a well-armed kibitzer.

I'M NOT saying Dulles was wrong. I'm merely pointing out that the Eisenhower policy is mainly a continuation of the Truman policy, without as solid a foundation. I think we should go all the way with the United Nations in opposing aggression, but I think either the Bagdad Pact or Seato is more likely to involve us in messy conflict than is the United Nations as a whole.

I hope to live to see a world constitution so just to all that we can be proud to pledge our full support to it, a world court guided by that constitution which can settle disputes between peoples by law instead of by force, and a world police force so effective that we and Russia and everybody else can count on it to see that peace and justice are maintained, and armament races between nations will be as silly as armament races between Sierra Madre and Arcadia would be.

The alternative to that is progressive taxation to create progressive means of annihilation, until we all get so desperate we won't really care when some human hyena turns loose all the engines of destruction and we have hell on earth.

Watch on the Potomac

By Robert G. Spivack

IS PEACE TOO EXPENSIVE?—Harold Stassen is on his way out as U.S. Disarmament chief. The President made that plain at his press conference recently when he said Stassen had the qualities that might make him a suitable Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania.

But whether Stassen leaves or stays, the problems that he was tackling are bound to remain. His mammoth job was to work out a disarmament arrangement with the Russians. Some think he may have gone about his assignment in the wrong way. Others feel he should have first disarmed John Foster Dulles who has busied himself stabbing Stassen in the back.

Leaving aside the personality conflict between these two men there remain nevertheless important questions about disarmament that require clear-headed thinking and public discussion.

For example—The question is often asked whether we can afford another war? We know the answer to that one. But the corollary question—we are prepared to pay the price of real peace and disarmament?—is rarely asked. The fact is we don't know the answer. There are countless elements involved and No. 1, of course, is whether the Russians believe in peaceful, competitive "co-existence" or whether that's just Communist gobbledygook.

ONE OF THE wire services recently reported that Soviet Ambassador Zaroubin on his departure from the United States stopped off to see Stassen. Zaroubin is said to have told him that eventually the U.S. and U.S.S.R. would negotiate a disarmament agreement. As we hear it, it was a sort of "chins-up" talk.

It's hard to believe that when word of that talk spread through Wall St., it caused positive gloom. There were a variety of comments and private reactions. What they boil down to is this: the economic consequences to this country that would flow from a disarmament agreement would be disastrous.

Many people, sad to relate, have a vested interest in perpetuating world tensions.

THE EFFECTS OF SPUTNIK—Whether the Soviet government was trying to scare us and shake our self-confidence or whether they had to launch Sputnik to divert attention from some of their domestic problems, there seems to be little argument but that the outer-space contest has precipitated a new arms race.

Right now two-thirds of your tax dollar is going for arms and defense. Altogether the government is spending about $40 billions on keeping up our military establishment. When you realize that the whole national budget is $74 billions you get some idea of how much our internal economy depends on not having too much disarmament.

Look, as an example, at the operations of General Dynamics, one of the nation's leading armament manufacturers. Along with its subsidiaries it employed only 3,500 workers 12 years ago. Now it employs 100,000. Of its $1.5 billions in annual sales, more than 80 per cent comes from the federal government. The firm deals almost exclusively with missiles production, atomic submarines, building bombers and interceptor planes.

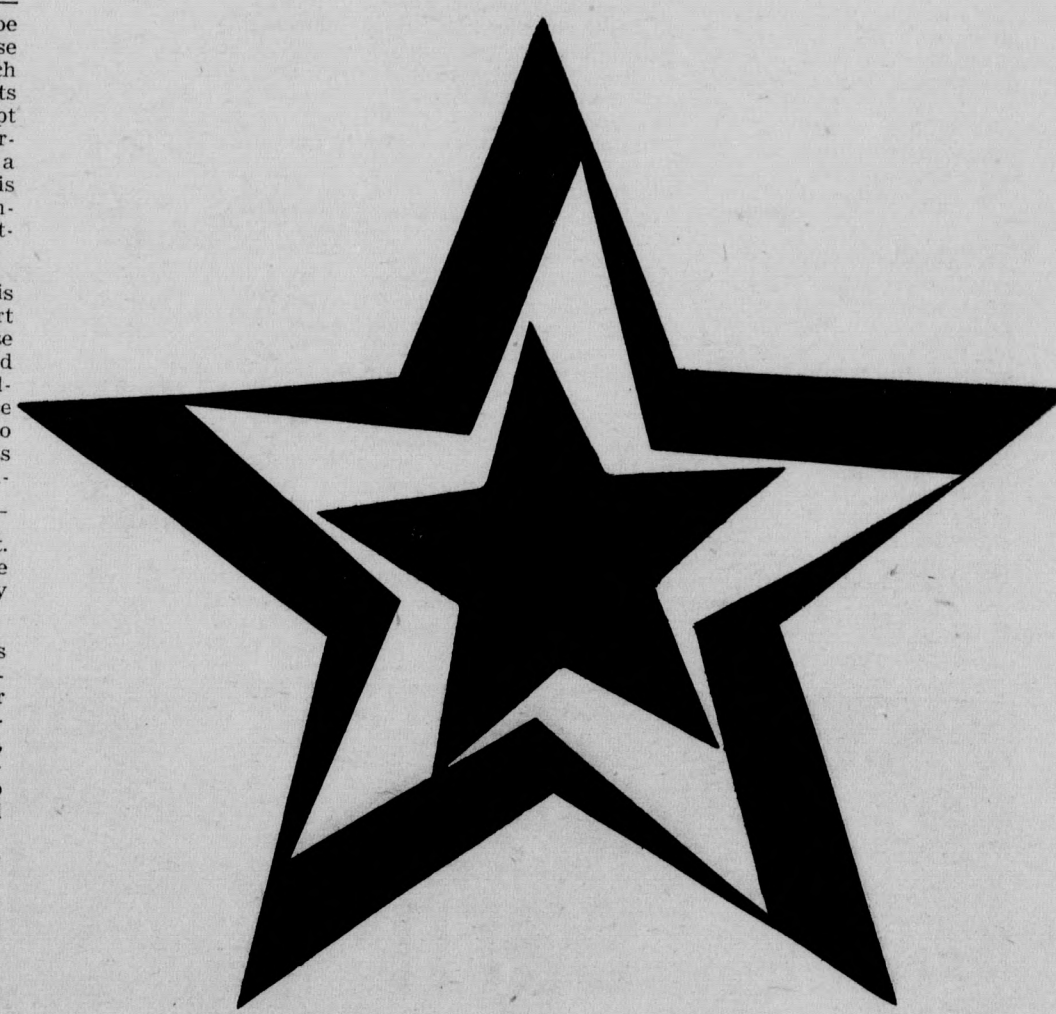

What happens to General Dynamics if we negotiate a disarmament treaty?

ECONOMISTS whom I respect tell me that the present recession is by no means entirely due to the cut-backs in defense ordered by Secretary Charles E. Wilson in the pre-Sputnik era. Nor do they think we'll be entering a new period of "prosperity" merely because the government has restored some $3 billions in arms expenditures. Yet when you mention "disarmament" to some businessmen it foreshadows a cataclysm of sizeable dimensions.

It will be difficult to persuade many government officials, as Stassen has learned to his bitter regret, that we can make "peace" pay off. Yet a disarmament agreement, I am sure, would be quite gradual. So it is possible that there need be no drastic disruption of the economy if we get on with the talks.

Real "peace and prosperity" will come, of course, only when this nation uses its enormous resources to lift the living standards of the people of Asia, Africa and Latin America. Just think what we could do in the fight against hunger, cancer, heart disease and malaria if we spent $40 billions annually on such projects!

Fashion Show Planned by Local PTA

As a special fund-raising project to help provide supplementary enrichment equipment for Sierra Madre schools, the Sierra Madre PTA is sponsoring a spring fashion show and dessert luncheon, Saturday, March 1 at the Altadena Town and Country Club.

Entitled "Cherry Blossom Festival," the show will be Japanese in motif, according to Mmes. George Fleming and Bert Menne, co-chairmen.

Approval for the project was first given by the PTA at its November Association meeting and has the sanction and approval of the administration.

Since revenues from the tax increase must go to the rehabilitation of the school plant to bring it up to standard and for teacher salary increases, school funds are inadequate, either now or in the near future, for enrichment materials. Although PTAs do not customarily purchase curriculum equipment, the PTA Board and Association feel that no further time should be lost in providing as much supplementary material as possible to increase the educational advantages of Sierra Madre students.

Actual selection of the equipment, including globes, encyclopedias, science equipment and teaching aids, will be made by the School Administration and purchased from the proceeds of the Fashion Show.

Tickets for the Fashion Show have been distributed, according to Mrs. Wayne Hartwell, ticket chairman, and can be purchased from members of the Sierra Madre PTA Board.

The Culinary Kettle . . .

These Simple, Economical Recipes Easy to Prepare

By Toni Maurin

It is always fun to talk to someone who gets a real kick out of doing what they are doing. Mrs. William F. (Betty) Eagan seems just such a person. The recipes she gave me had all been highly recommended to me and yet they are all simple and economical to prepare.

TAMALE PIE

Combine and simmer for one hour:
1½ lbs. lean ground meat (beef)
1 can whole kernel corn
1 can tomato paste
1 onion chopped
1 can chopped ripe olives
Medium can tomato juice
Chili powder, salt and pepper to taste
Pour into a large casserole with

CORN BREAD TOPPING

½ cup flour
½ tsp. baking soda
¾ cup corn meal
1 beaten egg
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking powder
1 cup buttermilk
2 tsp. salad oil
*The buttermilk is a vital ingredient in making the proper topping and sweet milk should not be substituted.
Beat together and spread over meat mixture. Bake at 350°F. for 25 minutes.

CABBAGE ROLL

Core and boil one cabbage in salted water till leaves are tender enough to roll without tearing. Stuff with the following:
Mix together
1 lb. ground beef
½ cup Minut Rice
1 small diced onion
OR
½ lb. pork sausage
cup cooked rice
1 egg
Dash of celery salt or celery seeds
Salt and pepper to taste
Mince garlic is optional.
Roll two or three tablespoons of meat mixture in a cabbage leaf and secure with a toothpick. Repeat until all the meat is used. (More or less can be used according to individual taste. Arrange in a large casserole or heavy skillet.
For the sauce you can use either a can of tomato soup diluted with a half can of milk or mushroom soup diluted in the same manner. The latter makes a very rich casserole. Cook in a 250°F. oven covered for two hours or on top of the stove with the lowest heat for the same time. This amount of meat will serve six.

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

My Valentine, you're very nice, because you add to life the spice??? Or, if wishes came true by giving a sign, I'd wish you for my Valentine.

Sentimental drivel? Not to me. I love every sticky minute of it. I love the red hearts, the lace, and I even cherish the little candy hearts that impart a tender message such as "Be Mine." "Oh, you Kid," or "I'm Thine." I am an absolute idiot about sentimental occasions. I gussy everything up, from putting lavish sprinklings of paprika in the form of hearts on the breakfast eggs to red jello and kind of pink mashed potatoes at night.

This grieves my husband somewhat, but he figures it's not quite as bad as what I do on St. Patrick's Day with green food coloring! So, happy hearts and flowers to everyone!

DR. AND MRS. Robert L. Mueller of 1600 Old House Road returned last week from a two-week trip to the Islands. They came back with the rain, looking wonderfully tanned and happy. They flew over with Mr. and Mrs. Duane Whitehead and stayed first at Honolulu, then they went fishing off the Island of Hawaii where they experienced phenomenal excitement.

Mrs. Mueller caught a Baracuda and Mr. Whitehead caught the largest Marlin of the season. It weighed in at 525 pounds. It was caught as they were coming in to get out of a storm and it took 3 hours and 50 minutes to land.

It was a great temptation to cut the line as the ground swells were at the point of capsizing their round-bottomed boat. After their fishing tour they went on to Kauai and then back to Honolulu for their flight home.

ALTHOUGH Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Johnson of 3311 Villa Mesa have lived in our area for several months, I haven't had the opportunity to talk to them until just recently. They lived in the lower Hastings Ranch for six years, so they are well known in the area. Mrs. Johnson said that during their first four months in this area they had over 400 people visiting them.

They have two children attending Marshall School. Judith is in the 10th grade and Robert the 7th. Mr. Johnson is with Brandon and Johnson, Structural Engineers, in Los Angeles.

MR. RALPH JAMES and his son, Dave, of 1215 Hartwood Point Drive returned last week from a brief sojourn to Yellowstone. They drove up in their Porche and took a snowmobile into the park. Dave was home between semesters from University of Redlands.

NEW BABY department: The C. A. Mounters of 1250 Sierra Madre Villa have a new baby girl, born Feb. 2. She weighed in at 7 pounds, 11 ounces and will be called Lisa Claire. She has two sisters at home, Patty, 9, and Joan, 3. Her brother, Karl, is 10 years old.

THE CARL G. WARNICK household at 1135 Sierra Madre Villa continues to be a home with welcome written all over it. A week ago Friday their daughter, Judy, had 40 teenagers in for an evening of dancing. On the following night Mr. and Mrs. Warnick and Dr. and Mrs. Dave Bodily of Arcadia entertained 50 members of the College Club. They had Mrs. Diffendorfer as their guest speaker. She lectured on the rebuilding of the education system on Okinawa, from where she recently returned. She is now on her way to Iran to look into education there.

D. H. Ostrander Family Welcomes New Baby Feb. 5

Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Ostrander, 955 Pepperhill Rd., are the parents of a son, Christopher Lee, born Feb. 5 at French Hospital in Los Angeles, weighing 8 pounds, 10 1/2 ounces.

The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Ruth W. Nelson of San Francisco. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Tuck of Dixon, Calif.

The other Ostrander children are Susan, 14; Janna, 10, and Gilman, 8.

Don Benito Polio March Successful

The recent Don Benito School District "Mothers' March on Polio" in the upper Ranch netted $808.60 for the rehabilitation of polio victims.

The national directors felt, because of the Salk Vaccine, the peak in public concern in contributions had been reached a few years ago and expected a general decrease in donations. However, this area, noted for its generosity, maintained its last year's level.

Those lieutenants assisting Mrs. Carlton C. Wright Jr., area captain, were Mrs. James D. Thackrey, Mrs. Harold H. Hennacy, Mrs. Bertram L. Potter, Mrs. Marvin B. Anderson, Mrs. Dominic F. Giangregorio and Mrs. Wayne S. Blackman.

Also, Mrs. D. A. Seiler, Mrs. David H. Bierhorst, Mrs. Roy Primack, Mrs. Andrew J. Wynn, Mrs. Charles H. Trent, Mrs. Frederick G. Sawyer, Mrs. Henry P. Buckingham and Mrs. Jack Babick.

Taking part in the march, too, were 70 block mothers. All residents in Pasadena under 45 are urged to take their Salk Vaccine series or complete the ones they have already started.

Shakespeare Club Plans Holiday Party

A giant red heart dominating the stage will set the theme for the Shakespeare Club Junior's Valentine Dessert Bridge tomorrow at 1 p.m. in Stratford House.

A three-dimensional heart in the foyer and red and white carnations will carry out the "Hearts and Flowers" theme, according to Mrs. Sidney L. Curtis and Mrs. Marvin S. McClain, co-chairmen of the affair.

Juniors, their friends and guests will enjoy the bridge party which has replaced the annual Christmas Tea.

SPECIAL GUESTS will be Mrs. N. Seymour Dasher, president of the senior club; Miss Helen Louise Taylor, Mrs. Perley M. Cox and Mrs. Hiram B. Ravey, junior advisors; and Mmes. Langdon H. Tannehill, Robert W. Maxson, Willard Karl Jr., Robert C. Bucknall, David V. Stevens and Robert L. Hemmings, past presidents of the club.

Making old-fashioned Valentine tallies are Mmes. Wayne F. Barnes, Donald E. Garner, Ernest M. Howard, Frank D. Limb and Arthur Marmaduke.

Others working on invitations, refreshments and music are Mmes. David K. Gillies; William A. Bell and Richard King, and Harrison R. Baker, Jr., Lee H. Darrow and James P. Karl.

HEART AND CUPID Valentines summoned new provisional Juniors to the second annual "Fireside Cozy" held at the home of Mrs. Robert F. Gordon, 170 Coburn Ave., Sierra Madre.

The Valentine theme, in red and white, also was carried out in name tags and decorations, as planned by Mrs. William M. Laub, membership chairman, and her vice chairmen Mmes. Donald E. Garner and George B. Newhouse.

During the evening, provisionals were introduced to Mrs. N. Seymour Dasher, senior club president; Miss Helen Louise Taylor, chairman, Mrs. Perley M. Cox and Mrs. Hiram B. Ravey, senior club advisory committee; Mrs. Stanley A. Newlin Jr., junior president, her board, and Mrs. Langdon H. Tannehill, junior parliamentarian.

THE NEW girls were told of their responsibilities as provisionals and each board member described her committee's functions and the part provisionals can take in her committee's activities.

Provisionals receiving invitations were Mmes. Charles F. Ashcroft, John Ballan, Harold E. Ballmann, Robert E. Bond, James S. Dwight, Calvert L. Elliott, George F. Gilmore, William Hannaford, Harland Heath, Henry L. Humann, Delford B. McGee, Reginald T. Murphy, Miles J. Turpin and Kenneth H. Watts.

Harriet Beegle

Linda Smallman

By Pat Smith

ELgin 5-1903

Linda Smallman is Wilson's new hospitality commissioner. Harriet Beegle is our new entertainment commissioner. They both play a very important part in Wilson's student body activities. Linda hopes to "make Wilson the friendliest school in Pasadena," keep up and encourage school spirit and try to keep the Wilson student body closer together. Harriet plans to have "better school dances and outstanding school assemblies."

Mike Couch, safety commissioner, hopes to gain more respect for the members of the DAA, make some changes such as having report forms for the safeties which will give information to counselors; and to use the name, DAA (Devils And Angels), to better advantage. He also said that awards will be given at the end of the year to those safeties having perfect attendance and fulfilling a service to the school.

I, Pat Smith, as your publications commissioner, hope to make the Wilsonian, with the help of the news writing class, really the best in the city. As far as the annual is concerned, I hope to add some new ideas to some of the good old ones. I hope that the job I do in this office will please you.

MANY THANKS to all those teachers and administrators who made the Mother and Daughter party the great success it was. To Miss Heyes, our girls' vice principal, who was over-all director of the show; Miss Penn, head of the PE Department, who spent many hours after school helping three groups of dancers put together and rehearse their dances; Mr. Shepard and his stage crew; Miss Lowe and her chorus group; Mrs. Strubel and her models, and Mrs. Cogswell, who produced scenes from Junior Miss.

Of course, the girls who participated in the party are to be congratulated on the wonderful jobs they did. Susan Hubley was mistress of (Continued on Page 9)

Phi Mu To Observe State Day

Area alumnae of Phi Mu Sorority will meet March 1 to observe Founders' Day and State Day at the Beverly-Hilton Hotel.

Group discussions, a program and luncheon are planned for the big event, which is the 106th anniversary of the sorority's founding. The traditional Founders' Day ritual will be a highlight of the afternoon's program.

Phi Mu, second oldest Panhellenic sorority, was founded March 4, 1852, in Macon, Ga. Three college students conceived the idea of an organization of the then-rare women students. The three chose the sorority symbol, which is now the official badge; the flower, the Enchantress carnation, and the concepts by which the sorority is still governed.

FROM THREE girls at one Southern college, Phi Mu has grown to an international organization, with nearly 100 collegiate chapters in the United States and alumnae groups all over the world. The sorority maintains an international scholarship program as well as aiding its own members to continue their educations, and a wide variety of philanthropic activities. The very first concept a Phi Mu pledge learns is "to lend to those less fortunate a helping hand."

District and national officers will conduct round-table discussions on recommendations, alumnae membership and the formation of new clubs. A guest speaker and entertainment will also be featured on the program.

ALUMNAE chapters and clubs, including the Pasadena group, from this area, will have charge of various sections of the day's program. Coffee hour and registration will begin at 10 a.m. at the hotel.

Last year's observance was held in Long Beach, and it was the first Founders' Day for Southern California to be combined with State Day. It was so successful that the combined convale will be an annual event.

Closing the all-day session will be a tour of the UCLA chapter house, which has been recently remodeled and redecorated.

Phi Mu who have moved recently or who are new to the area may write directly to Mrs. Robert Schopf, 2252-C 20th St., Santa Monica, for information and reservations.

Bernard J. Miller Named Director

Bernard J. Miller, 1370 Tropical, was listed among the incorporating directors of the new Ziemann Products Inc., a Whittier industry established to manufacture and sell boat trailers.

Mr. Miller, long active in the mobile home field and Trailer Coach Association, will continue to serve as sales manager for Ziemann Manufacturing Co., the west's leading supplier of mobile home chassis.

Parish Council Members Plan Valentine Dance

Guests will dance to the music of Rod Rodriguez and his orchestra. Debbie Kay, TV vocalist and star of the program, Country America, will be featured.

Mrs. Robert Guy Jacobs, dance chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Clyde Hinkley, Mrs. Paul Gormican, Mrs. Robert Box, Mrs. Duane Manning, Mrs. John Garo, Mrs. Dorothy Price and Mrs. Barbara Vick.

Dr. Lince discussed such topics as our reactions to Sputniks I and II, the Southerners' reaction to the Negroes, the effect of World War II on our mass thinking.

Proceeds from the lecture will be used to further the work of ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) in its program of free, non-sectarian, vocational training in the underprivileged areas of the world.

ORT maintains 300 schools in 20 countries on five continents and receives support not only from individual governments but also from the United Nations and the Ford Foundation.

Sports in Haste . . .

Rain, Snow or 'Ole' Diz, Little League Marches On

By Charles Ayres

All the rumbles and roars and gushing of waters lately can't be charged to our "unusual" weather.

A goodly portion can be charged to the wailing, moaning and gnashing of teeth when "Ole" Dizzy Dean came out foursquare against kid baseball. Such an utterance from one of baseball's all-time greats was more than enough to make the tears flow like wine.

Before you get the wrong idea, it wasn't the kids who were all broken up. I've suspected for a long time that they don't care if school keeps or not. It was the parent of the embryo major leaguer that was all shook up down to his calloused toes.

"OLE" DIZ claims that kids of Little League age are just plain too young to withstand the physical and emotional strains of organized competitive baseball and tops it off by declaring that "kids oughtn't to throw baseballs until they are 14 like me and Paul did."

Diz and his brother's exploits are recorded in baseball history and can't be disputed. But that is no reason why you have to agree with this (to say the least) upsetting approach. Obviously "Ole" Diz never saw one of our Hastings Ranch Little Leaguers intent on chasing butterflies in the outfield instead of line drives.

Not to be influenced one iota by all these goings on, Hastings Ranch Little League's directors met the other night and proceeded to lay big plans for the coming season destined to commence somewhere around the first of May.

THEY ELECTED themselves a few officers topped by the "old pro" Jack Sorenson who will serve his third term as president by unanimous acclamation. He will be assisted by such old standbys as Bill Hogoboom as vice president, Russ Stubbs as treasurer, and Neil Conroy as chief umpire. They are joined by Dean Scurr as treasurer and Fred Rick as players' agent, and with that array of talent, even "Ole" Diz would have to admit the leadership couldn't be better.

The boys (men that is) are showing a rare stroke of genius, too, in that they have formulated plans for a women's auxiliary to run the show. After all, who could be more qualified? It is the women who are responsible for the presence of these talented little monsters.

United Lutherans Plan Lenten Worship Series

Opportunities to learn more about the church and to worship evenings will be offered by the United Lutheran church of Sierra Madre and Arcadia during Lent.

Beginning Ash Wednesday, Feb. 19, the Rev. E. Hansen, pastor, will conduct an informal discussion group at 7 p.m.

This class continuing each Wednesday during Lent, will include topics such as God, sin, the sacraments, stewardship of life, prayer, Lutheran worship and other Christian religions.

Wednesday night discussions will be followed by a coffee break. Lenten vespers will be held at 8 p.m., with the meditation centered on "Personalities of Christ's Passion." Services will be over at 9:15 p.m.

Ash Wednesday service will include the Lord's Supper. "Our communion is open to all who repent of their sins and believe in Christ as their personal Savior," Pastor Hansen said.

Lenten vespers meditations include: Wednesday, Feb. 19, "Peter: Denier or Spy?"; Feb. 26, "Judas: Believer or Betrayer?" with Dr. H. Paul Romeis, Missions Supervisor of the Pacific Southwest Synod, preaching. March 5, "King Herod, the Sunday Christian;" March 12, "Simon, the Cross Bearer;" March 19, "Longinus, the Roman Centurion;" March 26, Dismas, the Crucified Revolutionary;" April 2, "Joseph of Arimathea."

Rev. Armin Hesse will speak on the theme "What the Lord Does for People," employing for comparison the Lenten character of Judas, Peter, Caiaphas, Pilate, Dismas and the Roman Centurion.

In announcing this series of sermons he stated: "Many seem to know what these characters did, and what their counter-parts are doing to the Lord today. In these studies an effort will be made to show what the Lord did and is doing for them." For his Sunday morning sermon theme Rev. Hesse has chosen "Properly Directed Ambitions."

MISSION BELL

PEOPLE OUTSIDE the church wonder, "Why all the hubbub over Lent?" Lent is a word from the German Lenz (Spring). The Lenten fast found its origin in the desire of early Christians to perpetuate in lives of believers the deep sorrow and mourning experienced when our Lord was crucified and lay in the tomb, a period of 40 hours. As that first sorrow gave place to the great joy in the Resurrection, the restoration of the Lord to them, the idea for a preparatory fast to Easter developed. Early there is added a deep sense of what brought about our Lord's Crucifixion. Then it was not a far journey to the idea of individual sin and responsibility.

THE 40 HOURS extended to an entire week, then to two weeks, then 40 days. The present custom of beginning Lent with Ash Wednesday gives us exactly 40 days, excluding Sundays, to Easter. THE EMPHASIS during Lent is truly evangelical. The Lord says: "Turn ye to me with all your heart" . . . "Render your heart and not your garments." The God of all mercy, who does not hate but forgives and loves us, comes to us through the passion and suffering of Christ who died that we might truly live! We do not earn forgiveness—"not by works of righteousness which we have done"—but by offering our broken and contrite hearts and earnestly asking pardon for our sins.

THE CHURCH, founded by Christ as His living body on earth until He shall come again in triumph, offers each of us the way of forgiveness. Our tarnished souls can become as clean as the new snow on Mt. Baldy as we turn to the Lord in His church during Lent. TODAY'S THOUGHT—Only as we turn to Christ can He, in turn, help us. —The Rev. Ray E. Hansen

Saturday evening will find Sierra Madre parents whose sons attend the Christian Brothers La Salle High School off for the annual dinner dance sponsored by the Parents Association.

This will be the second year for the party as well as the high school itself. Dinner and dancing will be preceded by a social hour.

A "Hearts and Flowers" motif will prevail with Mrs. J. W. Diemer and Mrs. William Simons heading the decorations committee. Arrangements of red carnations, tulles and ribbon bows and pink candles will center each table.

Frank Morgan and his orchestra will play from a stage banked with red carnations and behind them will be red satin hearts and "I Love You" written in gold leaves on a lacy white background.

Mrs. Walter T. Cannon is in charge of reservations. Among the localites planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Brandt who will have as their guests the Frank Danielsons, Roland Rosauers, Emil Goeddes, Paul Donovans and Harold Carlsons, Carlyle Griffins, R. I. Johnson, Al J. Siegmeth and J. Donald Young.

PROMOTED

Hugh L. Warriner, 472 W. Montecito Ave., Sierra Madre, has been promoted to assistant manager at Bank of America Slauson-Avalon branch, Los Angeles, according to John A. Minehan, vice president of personal relations for the Bank of America in Southern California. The promotion for Warriner came on the heels of his 30th anniversary with the bank which he observed last week.

The self-made man will be treated with more respect when he equips himself with a silencer.

'Inherit the Wind' Called Superb Playhouse Drama

By Edward Voorhees

"Inherit the Wind," with a cast of 50, at the Pasadena Playhouse, superbly staged, directed and acted, presents an exciting clash of ideas and personalities that, in the opinion of this reviewer, is one of the most satisfying evenings any theater-goer, however "hardened" or however "discriminating," could hope to experience.

Both Sidney Blackmer and Wendell Holmes, as the battling attorneys "Henry Drummond" and "Matthew Harrison Brady," are highly convincing characters in their roles as defender and prosecutor, respectively, of "Bertram Cates," who represents the original young Scopes, the Tennessee high school teacher who breaks the state law by reading passages from Darwin's "Origin of Species," and "The Descent of Man," to his pupils.

STREET SCENES and courtroom scenes are full of color and naturalistic action in this battle for the right to think and to search for Truth.

In their program statement, "The Genesis and Exodus of the Play," authors Lawrence and Lee say, in part:

"Inherit the Wind" is not history. The events which took place in Dayton, Tenn., during the scorching July of 1925 are clearly the genesis of this play. It has, however, an exodus entirely its own. Only a handful of phrases have been taken from the actual transcript of the famous Scopes trial. The greatest reporters and historians of the century have written millions of words about the 'monkey trial.' We are indebted to them for their brilliant reportage."

TO THOSE in the audience who have remembered or have read of the clash of the great criminal lawyer, Clarence Darrow, and the "Great Commoner," William Jennings Bryan, three times candidate for the Presidency of the United States and secretary of state under Woodrow Wilson, the performance is especially memorable, but even without such knowledge, no person in the audience can fail to be excited and stimulated by the action and dynamic ideas.

The love scenes between the schoolmaster and his sweetheart, daughter of the minister, give special poignancy to the situation, as does the singing-prayer-meeting scene on the village lawn by the moonlight.

The crowd direction by Director Barney Brown results in a remarkable realism, and the sets of village and courtroom on upper and lower stage are both novel and adequate to excite and convince the imagination.

Scout Month Observed by St. Rita's

In celebration of Scout Month, Cub Scout Pack 372 of St. Rita's Parochial School held its annual Blue and Gold Banquet in the form of a potluck dinner Tuesday evening, Feb. 11, in St. Rita's Parish Hall.

Following dinner, scouts and their families attended a regular meeting conducted by Scoutmaster Carlyle Griffin. Scout awards were presented and "slight of hand" magician, William Marquard, provided entertainment.

Assisting Scoutmaster Griffin this year are Den Masters and Den Mothers, Mmes. David Harney, Edward Hume, John Nuccio, Charles Morgan, Edwin Cavanaugh, Edwin Hogan and Messrs. Jules Ruggles, Gerald Drean, John Nuccio, Edwin Cavanaugh, William Newberry, Guy Rossi and C. E. Beardshear.

PCC Honors Sally Ryan for Theater Arts

Sally R. Ryan of Sierra Madre was honored recently for outstanding efforts in Pasadena City College theater arts productions.

Miss Ryan was invited to full membership in the PCC chapter of Delta Psi Omega, the national honorary junior college drama fraternity.

FIRE FLAMES

By James Heasley

Rain spoiled a planned fire drill recently, but a needed practice of salvage covers, smoke mask tests and similar tasks about the fire station occupied the regular drill period. Assistant Chiefs Brown and Toms had to be notified of the time to come to the meeting. Firemen are always glad to see and even feel the rain, knowing that the mountain brush is better protected.

FOR A fireman to accidentally sound a siren on one of the trucks is a sure sign that he will pay a sound dollar into the "Cuss Can Kitty." Such an event always brings considerable trouble to the presiding officer, for he must decide whom to fine.

The siren sounded last Friday. Not a member volunteered admission of the offense. Fred Richter was not present when the questioning began, nor was he in the room when the chief gave up. Appearing later, he willingly paid the required fee.

Although a strenuous drill was to be performed, an exceptionally good attendance answered roll call. Such interest verifies loyalty and a desire to be of service to the community.

"Dad, what is a traitor in politics?"

"A traitor, my son, is a man who leaves his party and goes over to the other side."

"Well, then, what is a man who leaves his party and comes over to your side?"

"A convert, my boy, a convert."

EVEN THE firemen have their difficulties. We have those who imagine that two or three others are trying to run the show. There's always that reward for being ambitious. It's most surprising to learn that such childishness exists among big hard firemen. It can't be.

EVEN THOUGH the rains have dampened a lot of things, we cannot forget that fires can start and become dangerous and fatal. Let's keep the FIRES OUT.

ceremonies. Judy Alexander gave the dedication to mothers and Mrs. Hubley gave the response.

Carol Cox did a great job of getting ushers and girls to help with refreshments.

GIRLS, THIS IS your last chance this year to ask your favorite beau to a school dance. The name of the backward dance is "Heart Hop," and is to be held Feb. 14, Valentine's Day.

The dance is sponsored by the 10th Y Teens who decided that the colors should be red and white. The Moon-glow will play. They are made up of some guys from Marshall.

Door prizes will be given; refreshments will be served—at a price—so be seen! you there.

THE FIRST track meet of the season will be held Friday after school. Marshall and McKinley will come for the competition. See you there, also.

Hollypark Sets Record Stakes Meet

Hollywood Park's stakes program for the 55-day thoroughbred racing season opening Thursday, May 8, will be another record breaker.

James D. Stewart, vice president and general manager, announced that 33 stakes for approximately $1,230,000 added will be presented, breaking Hollywood Park's own world's record of $1,203,500 set last year for one race meeting.

Purses for the "overnight" races, the non-stakes events which make up the bulk of the daily racing programs, are again expected to more than double the total prize money put up for stakes.

President Mervyn LeRoy said he anticipated that Hollywood Park's world's record of $3,695,000 in total net stakes and purse distribution, which was set last year, also will be broken.

Highlighting Hollypark's stakes program again will be four $100,000 races, starting with The Californian May 24.

Take your problems to Church this week

— millions leave them there!

Now Hear This—

"But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and hurtful desires that plunge men into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is the root of all evil; it is through this craving that some have wandered away from faith and pierced their hearts with pangs."—1 Timothy, Chapter 6:9-10.

One has but to look in the pages of newspapers any day to realize the striking truth of the above warning—a banking official or public servant gone wrong, a home broken, crimes committed.

Money has its proper place in the essentials of any life. It is only when love of it causes us to place it in a position out of all proportion to its importance that the tragedies mentioned in the Bible quotation descend upon us.

There are many messages of power in the Bible that will help us avoid pitfalls and aid in building a successful life. A wonderful assist in discovering and using this power is church attendance, for being a part of church fellowship is living out these rules of conduct found in the Bible.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

AMA Booklet Outlines Faults of Bad Driver

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

Even though a person has a good safety record and thinks he is in excellent health, there are certain circumstances under which he shouldn't drive.

A new American Medical Association pamphlet, "Are You Fit to Drive?" lists some of the things that can make a driver dangerous.

The pamphlet, to be distributed through doctors' offices, was prepared by the AMA Committee on Medical Aspects of Automobile Injuries and Deaths. It tells how a doctor can help answer the question of driving fitness and urges drivers to ask their doctors when they are in doubt about their fitness.

ACCORDING to the pamphlet, some of the things that make a driver dangerous are:

1. EMOTIONAL UPSETS

Unless a person can keep his mind on the wheel and not on his worries, he should not take the wheel.

2. THE DRIVER'S attitude.

Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong. Some are aggressive and intolerant when they get into a car. They need to be mature.

3. SLEEPINESS.

A sleepy driver is as much a hazard as a drinking one. Dozing is not restricted to night driving. When making long trips, a person should rest every two hours, drinking coffee or cola to stay alert. He should not take any medicine that makes him drowsy.

4. MEDICINES.

Antihistamines, cold tablets, sedatives, tranquilizers and some other drugs may dull reflexes or impair coordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. The doctor should be consulted about the side effects of any drugs.

5. FAULTY VISION.

A driver needs regular eye examinations; if he notices any change in his eyes between examinations, he should see his eye doctor immediately. To reduce eye strain, he should wear properly fitted sunglasses, but not after dark. To avoid tiring the eyes, excessive night driving should be avoided if possible. Hay fever or the common cold can blur the vision dangerously.

6. CERTAIN NERVE and heart disorders.

Some may cause convulsions and others may result in occasional loss of consciousness. The doctor is the best judge of whether a patient with these disorders should drive.

7. DIABETES.

Insulin reactions may cause difficulties, but diabetic patients who follow their doctor's advice can be safe drivers.

8. OLD AGE. After 65, reflexes and coordination tend to be a little slower, people tire more easily, resistance to glare is lessened, and the ability to see at night is declining. Older drivers should line into our main reservoir at a total cost of about $3,000.

2. VOTED to inform the Board of Supervisors that the county's estimate of the cost of additional storm drains in Sierra Madre is unrealistic and could not be assumed by the residents here.

A county study has determined that Sierra Madre needs additional storm protection in the form of drains and catch basins that would cost $733,000. The figure for the county as a whole is $500,000,000.

3. VOTED to spend $600 already budgeted to put metal brackets on about 200 benches which will be placed throughout the city. A total of 425 benches were donated to the city by the Santa Anita Turf Club, and money currently is available to make about half of them serviceable.

4. DENIED a request from 12 residents that they be granted exemptions from paying the rubbish collection fees. The Council reaffirmed its earlier position that the fee must be paid by everyone with an active water meter.

5. VOTED to re-roof the Grove St. and Mira Monte reservoirs at a cost of about $4,000.

Ski Classes Start In Pasadena

Because of the excellent skiing conditions in our local mountains, the Pasadena Department of Recreation will sponsor a third series of ski classes starting Thursday, Feb. 27, from 8 to 10 p.m. at Jefferson Recreation Center, 1501 E. Villa St., Pasadena.

All members of the family are invited to participate at a reduced fee. The cost will be $2 for the first member of the family to sign up and $1.50 for the remainder. There will be four in-town sessions and one trip to the mountains for advanced instruction in the snow.

Auto Club Plans 4th Car Wash

The Clutchers, Sierra Madre car club, made the recent trip to Inyokern a success by winning a trophy in their class. They also set the hack record in their class.

Plans are now being made for a semi-annual car wash to take place some time in March. Thus far the club has had three car washes in the Wistaria Vine parking lot.
